

Your CLEAR Calling

Module 3

Master Staying Steady in the Face of Criticism and Uncertainty

Discovery

1. Through the work of clearing timelines and incorrect beliefs, what are you seeing about yourself you hadn't seen before?

2. After working through the clearings, have you noticed a change in your experience of the Line of Choice?

3. What additional areas in your life could you focus on to clear an incorrect belief? Relationships? Career? Your health?

Interviews

Understanding who you are in the world and how you show up is essential to seeing how everything you do affects those around you. The interview process can be one of the most illuminating exercises you will do in this course.

Take the next two weeks to interview five people in your life. Please choose people who are FOR you and your success; do not use these questions to attempt to heal rifts. Choose a mix of people, from close family members including spouses, kids, siblings or parents, to dear friends and coworkers. People do not need to have known you for a long time. Often, the people who have known you for the shortest amount of time can have surprising insight.

The interviews should take about 15-20 minutes. It is fine to send them the questions in advance. If you can, do them in person. If not, do them over the phone. Do not do them via email. Take notes for yourself.
